

"one of the 100 most amazing places in the UK"

Sunday Times in association with Reader's Digest loved by generations, cared for by you

Contributions from Friends, car parking, shops, outdoor activities, farming, forestry and other commercial activities enables sustainable care of this special place, so you can enjoy being here and nature can thrive.

Rothiemurchus is more than an area of outstanding beauty and environmental significance; it is a dynamic place where people live, work and play in harmony with nature. By becoming a Friend you are part of this, you also enable us to employ Rangers and information staff as well as helping to improve the biodiversity of one of the few remaining areas of unique forest in Britain.

Thank you
